Wandin Park Rally

Wow wow what a fantastic camp we had a Wandin. We were all cued up ready to get in there and get things started. We had to herd the horses out of the camping area. Kids were first to get their trusty steeds sorted and happy in their yards. We had two escape artists, I don't think Wandin Park had planned yards for Abby's mighty black shetland. He had nose to the ground working hard on planning his escape route, but his plans were not to be!, Shane had him tricked. Amanda had worked hard on Thursday ringing around to get final numbers for food before she heads to load the trolley to feed the mighty troops. Amanda has a new found appreciation for Lyns job. But she came up a winner, food was great. She had us covered and no one went hungry. Thanks to everyone for bringing a plate to share there was a Yum selection. Chris had worked hard cutting our wood for the nights fire, we were very very glad to see Chris arrive, it was getting cold and looking to get a whole lot colder. Fearless kids running around not feeling the cold. Various camps were setup, people in cars and floats, never got to ask our brave open float campers how they survived the Mosquitos. The tent area looked like they were going to do it in style. Some younger and older members go ready to bunk down in the wool shed. The wonderful Zoe was queen of the kids looking after our sleeping jnr members. There wasn't a huge fight for that job, but the position was happily filled. Some of us stayed up longer than we should and drank way too much coke. Would we be ready for the early risers. The sun rose and there was movement. The coffee was on, kids were up the BBQ was a go. After a good breakfast, it was let the day begin. Horses were saddle chairs we grabbed and parents were ready to cover some miles. Horses and Ponies start your engines they were in for a big day. Julie had the warm up happening and horses going well over the cross country. Gail maned the games first up with the practice run. After lunch the games area was the place to be horse and ponies going their fastest with riders hanging on to get over the line first, big smile from the riders and horses that meant business. Ah some parents looking a little nervous. Well practice must have payed off the cheers could be clearly heard from the wool shed where Jenny Walker was teaching show jumping. A big vote more games with many members discovering a new talent they didn't know they had. Look out zone games next year Upper Yarra Pony Club is back. More games was on the menu Gail. Big thanks to Steve for bringing our equipment.

Well thank you to all organizers and helpers who made this a fantastic camp. A big thank to Bill when you see him. He had sourced out a venue and secured a date convinced the committee it's going to be great.. I myself was a bit like ah camping. But I too had a great time and from the feed back so did everyone. We have a great pony with fantastic members and parents. We had the best weekend. Congratulations to all members on there achievements, If you missed awards and camping we will see you next year.

Cheers Desrae
